CHILDREN TEETHING.

MRS. WINSLOW,

SOOTHING SYRUP,
FOR CHILDREN TEETHING.

which greatly facilitates the process of teething, by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation, and which has never been known to fail in its action. It is a sure and reliable remedy. Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves and Benefit and Health to your Infants.

We have just put up and sold this article for over ten years, and can say, in confidence and truth, that what we have never before been able to say of any other medicine—never has it failed in a single instance to effect a cure, when timely used. Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who used it. On the contrary, all are enabled to sleep in comfort, and speak in terms of the highest commendation of its magical effects and medicinal virtues. We speak in this matter "what we do know" after ten years' experience and gladden our reputation for the fulfillment of what we here declare. In almost every instance where the child has been suffering from teething, relief will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after the Syrup is administered.

This valuable preparation is the prescription of one of the most EXPERIENCED and SKILLED NURSES in New England, and has been used with NEVER FAILING SUCCESS in

THOUSANDS OF CASES.
It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve the child of the Bores and Wind Colic, and overcome convulsions, which, if not speedily remedied, end in death. We believe the BEST AND SUREST REMEDY in the world in ALL CASES OF DYSENTERY AND DIARRHOEA, whether it arises from teething or from any other cause. We would say to every mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing complaints—do not let your prejudices, nor the prejudices of others, stand between you suffering child and the relief that is so easily and so speedily obtained. It is a safe and reliable medicine, if timely used. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle. None genuine unless the fac simile of CURTIS & PERKINS, New York, is on the outside wrapper.

Solely by Druggists throughout the world.

THE COMMONWEALTH.

The Star Spangled Banner.
AMERICAN NATIONAL HYMN.

O say, can you see by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hail'd at the twilight's last gleaming,
Whose broad stripes and bright stars through the perilous fight,
O'er the ramparts we watch'd, so gallantly streaming?

On the shore dimly seen through the mists of the deep,
Where the foe's haughty host in dread silence reposes,
What is that which the breeze, o'er the towering steep,
As it fitfully blows, half conceals, half discloses?

Now it catches the gleam of the morning's first beam,
In full glory reflected on shines in the stream:
'Tis the star-spangled banner, O long may it wave,
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave.

Of this be it ever, when freemen shall stand,
Between their lov'd homes and the war's desolation;
Blest with vict'ry and peace, may the Heaven rescued land,
Praise the Power that hath made and preserved us a nation;

Then conquer we must, when our cause it is just,
And the star-spangled banner in triumph shall wave,
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave.

Douglas in New York.

On the 13th inst., there was a grand bazaar at Jones' Woods, near New York, on which occasion fifty thousand people assembled to hear Mr. Douglas. The following extracts from his speech will be read with interest:

It is the first duty of every American citizen, to perform all the obligations under the Constitution. I care not whether you like or dislike all its provisions, yet every American and foreign born citizen, rests under hereditary obligations to fulfill its provisions. Every naturalized and adopted citizen, has taken an oath of fidelity to the Constitution, and he who is not willing to carry out, in good faith, every clause, every word, every letter of the Constitution, is a traitor in his heart to his country. [Bravo, and tremendous applause.] I tell the Abolitionists that they are bound, as honest men, to carry into effect that clause of the Constitution providing for the surrender of fugitive slaves, just as much as any and every other clause. [Cheers, and that's so.]

A Voice—How about secession?
A gentleman in the crowd asks me about secession. I will answer him. I tell you that when you have performed all your duties under the Constitution, when you have carried into effect every provision that the instrument contains, there is no excuse, no pretext, whatever, for secession. [Applause.] But I am prepared to return a more definite and specific answer to the inquiry. When I landed at Norfolk, Virginia, the head of a Breckinridge electoral ticket propounded to me the question whether the inauguration of Abraham Lincoln as President of the United States would be a justifiable cause in breaking up this Union. [Shouts of "never," "never."] I answered him thus, as I will answer everywhere in America where I may go to address my fellow citizens, the election of any man by the American people according to the provisions of the Constitution, is no pretext for breaking up this Government. [Loud cheers, and a cry of "Go it, lemons."] I should regret the election of Lincoln as a great national calamity.

I have no word of unkindness, or of personal disrespect to say to him, but I do believe that he holds political opinions which, if carried out, would be subversive of all the principles of the American Constitution. I was also asked at Norfolk and other places, whether, in the event that any of the Southern States should secede from this Union when Lincoln was elected, that I would go for the enforcement of the laws of the United States. I tell you, as I told them, that whoever may be President, he is bound by his oath to carry out the laws to their faithful execution. I also tell you that it is the duty of every law-abiding man, I care not what may be his politics, to aid and assist in the execution of the law. [Cries of "Good, good," and applause.] And if Lincoln shall be elected, which God in his mercy forbid—[and cheers, and cries of "he never will be!"]—if Lincoln, I say, should be elected, which God in his mercy forbid, he must be inaugurated, according to the Constitution and laws of his country; and I, as his firmest and most strenuous and most irreconcilable opponent, will sustain him in the exercise of every constitutional function. [Applause.] But if, after that shall have been done, he shall attempt to subvert the Constitution, violate its provisions, or make war upon the rights and interests of any section of this Confederacy, I will aid to the full extent of my power, according to the Constitution and law, in hanging him higher than Virginia hanged John Brown. [Tremendous cheers.]

We live (continued Mr. Douglas) under a Government of law. Our rights, our liberty, our property, our lives are dependent upon the laws of the land for protection. I have children whom I love as tenderly as any man upon earth loves his offspring, and yet I have no wish to see them survive the union of these States. [Loud cheers.] When we shall perform all our duties, according to the law and according to the Constitution, then we have a right to demand that every other man shall obey the same laws and the same Constitution. I had supposed that there was no loyal citizen—no friend of this country—who could find fault with these sentiments, but I discover in the newspapers of today a protest against my Norfolk speech, signed by Mr. Keitt, of South Carolina, and some forty or fifty other Disunionists, declaring that these sentiments must be repelled and resisted, and calling upon the American people to repudiate me in order to repudiate those sentiments. I mean no disrespect to the gentlemen who have signed this protest, but I have as much reason to protest against their reason as they have against my loyalty and devotion to the Constitution. [Loud cheers.] They assert in their protest that I treat the Union as a perpetual bond to be acquired in and obeyed in all future time by the weaker section toward the stronger.

They misapprehend totally my position. My position is this: that this Union is a perpetual bond, demanding and requiring implicit obedience to the Constitution and laws by every good citizen—not by the weaker section toward the stronger, but obedience from every honest man to the Government under which he was born, and which he has sworn to support. [Loud cheers.] But they assert in this protest that they have a right to secede from this Government. I tell you, as Gen. Jackson told the nullifiers in 1832, that secession is but another name for revolution. I hold that every people upon earth, have the inalienable right to overthrow their Government by revolution whenever the Government becomes destructive of the ends and purposes for which it was established. It was upon that principle that our revolutionary fathers in the American Colonies, seceded from the British Empire. [Loud applause.] But when Washington, and Jefferson, and Hancock, and Adams seceded from the British Government, they boldly and fearlessly avowed that it was a "revolution." It was a lucky day, and they gallantly looked the halter in the face, and exposed themselves to the penalties of treason, if they could not succeed. [Loud cheers.] Charles Carroll, of Carrollton, did not screen himself behind the plea of peaceable secession. When he signed the Declaration of Independence, he signed the Declaration of Independence, when some man said to him that he would escape the gallows because there were so many Charles Carrolls that the King's sheriff would not find him—[cheers]—but the gallant old patriot went right back to the desk and added these words, "of Carrollton." [Enthusiastic cheers.]

Now, gentlemen, you cannot fail to perceive that this Union is in danger from the very cause to which I have referred. There is a Disunion party in the land. They have resolved, whenever they can obtain a plausible pretext, to precipitate this country into revolution.

They have determined to make the election of a Black Republican President that pretext, and hence the real Disunionists favor the election of Lincoln, so that they may accomplish the dissolution of the Union. If Lincoln is elected it will be brought about by the agency of the regular Democratic party. [Cheers.] In other words, his election will be brought about by the influence of those who seceded at Charleston and again at Baltimore.

[A scene of great confusion here occurred. A tremendous rush was made toward the platform, one man in the crowd cheering loudly for Breckinridge.]

Judge Douglas continuing—If you will keep silence instead of coming here to obey the orders of your master, I will answer you in my own way.

Breckinridge Citizen—Who is my master? [Tumult and cheers.]
Senator Douglas—You should know him. Now, my fellow-citizens, I was about saying to you that there is a scheme to break up this Union.

A Voice—They can't do it.
The pretext for doing so is to be the election of Mr. Lincoln, and those who are genuine disunionists desire his election. [Up- roar and cheers.] I do not charge all the Breckinridge men in the United States with being disunionists. I do not charge Mr. Breckinridge himself with being a disunionist, but I do express my firm conviction that there is not a disunionist in America who is not a Breckinridge man. [Applause.] And now permit me to inquire of you and of them, that while they put these questions to me, whether the election of Lincoln would be a good cause of disunion, why do they not propound the same questions to their candidates? My answers to these interrogatories at Norfolk, Va., were published in Kentucky, and Mr. Breckinridge's special attention was called to them some six or eight days before his Lexington speech. In that speech he answered the charge that he was in favor of pardoning John Brown. [Ironical cheers and laughter.] He answered the charge that he was in favor of self-government in the territories. He professed great attachment to the Constitution and to the Union. But I have yet been unable to learn whether or not he would enforce the law against those who would attempt to break up the Government.

It is not satisfactory to me that a man says he is in favor of the Union. I have heard Barnwell Rhett make the same declaration. I have heard W. L. Yancey declare his devotion to the Union. I have heard all the leaders of the Disunion party make the same protestation, but they all admit that while they are favorable to the Union, yet there is a "contingency" upon which they would dissolve. Now, I desire to know of Major Breckinridge whether the "contingency" stated by his electoral friends in Virginia in their inquiries to me, is the one upon which he would dissolve the Union. I have a right to an answer to that question.

Now, if Mr. Breckinridge is in favor of enforcing the law against Disunionists, Secessionists, Abolitionists, and all other classes of men, in the event that the election does not suit him, then I am with him, but I tell you that I am utterly opposed to union, or any fusion with any men or any party who will not enforce the laws, maintain the Constitution, and preserve the Union in all its "contingencies."

I conjure you, as you love your country, as you wish to preserve your liberties, and transmit them unimpaired to your children, I conjure you to make no bargain, no combination, no fusion, no compromise, with the friends of any candidate who will not publicly pledge himself for the maintenance of the Union, the inviolability of the Constitution, and the enforcement of the laws, in all cases and under all circumstances.

DEATH OF SAMUEL A. CASSEDAY.—The entire community will be pained to read the announcement of the death of S. A. Caseday, Esq., a son of Samuel Caseday, Esq., and a member of the firm of Caseday & Sons, of this city. The sad event occurred yesterday. The deceased had been ill but a few days, and the immediate dissolution was not anticipated. Mr. Caseday was well known and highly esteemed in business circles, and recognized by men of science as a devoted co-laborer. In social life he was universally beloved. Louisville Courier, 14th.

The Monster Union Meeting.

To the Editors of the Louisville Journal.
New York, Sept. 17, 1860, 2 1/2 A. M.

There has been a terrible meeting here this night! I use the word with emphasis. The very air is charged with a strange spell, and something like that of the olden times, when the people have assembled by thousands, and not as was their wont at election, carnivals! The elastic, gleeful, buoyant soul that was heretofore the animation of these conventions is supplanted by a deeper, a more earnest, perchance a fiercer sentiment. The sinews of men are strong to a purpose. The atmosphere is heavy with the significance that a crisis has at last come; that the sword is suspended by a little hair over our great American feast of power, of glory, and of plenty—and God send us a safe deliverance, is the consecrated prayer of the thoughtful. O how anxiously from their sainted homes must the Fathers now look down upon their heritage, as they witness with immortal vision the strong agitation of our ship of State upon the sectional billow. An organized band of conspirators on the one hand, a mighty leviathan of millions on the other, clubs of malignants, men making night hideous with the torches of sedition; the warm enemy upon us of a sovereign State invaded; of massacres, poison—horror upon horror—and all in the germ! The lurid cloud gathers in the air—how then can men be happy until all is assured!

The newspapers will give you the details of this monster Union assemblage, of the speeches, and the tone. Large as it was it would have been doubled if the committees had quite completed their union in time for publication to-day. Eloquent tongues vied with each other, and none spoke more grandly, more winningly, or was listened to with deeper respect and conviction than was your own Morehead, who has throne'd the heart of the Empire State. He spoke in the North as a Kentuckian should speak at a period like this. Eloquently, manly, dignified. He sketched your patriot union-band with a master pencil—we almost gasped at his hands. With courageous appeal he invoked the North against the cowardice of petty tyranny; he upheld the shield of the Constitution with Spartan vigor and gallantry. And he awakened the electric fire of sympathy.

The conspirators are foiled, but, alas, years must elapse before hearts shall be responsive as of yore. Let every man henceforth to the day of election stand by his arms. We must make Lincoln's defeat memorable as well as sure. And the Northwest has a great work to do. Hereafter let me speak to that point of this eventful canvass; and now, God speed you, and good night.

Yours,
B.

He Must Answer.

Keep it before the people that Mr. Breckinridge has answered the question of the whole public ask. Mr. Lamb, an elector for Mr. Breckinridge, propounded the questions to Douglas. Douglas recognized him as the representative of his candidate, and promptly answered the questions. He requested that the same questions should be propounded to Mr. Breckinridge, and Mr. Lamb pledged himself that it should be done. The whole proceedings were before Mr. Breckinridge. The questions were before him. His friend and representative is pledged to demand an answer; the whole public demand it. But Mr. Breckinridge declines to answer. It is length immaterial matters that any speaker could have discussed as well; but what he ought to have said he omitted.

If Lincoln is elected, will that be sufficient cause to justify secession? Such a question, if it is attempted, will Mr. Breckinridge use force to prevent it?

It is well known that his prominent supporters hold and have published the affirmative to the first question; and, of course, the negative to the second. It is well known that the States represented by those at the head of the Breckinridge movement have taken steps towards secession in the contingency of Lincoln's election.

Does Mr. Breckinridge condemn or approve this conduct of the prominent Southern party? Will he be for them or against them? Will they not demand to know where he stands?

This is the material question now. All theories about Territorial policy sink into insignificance before this question. And Mr. Breckinridge has not answered.

Will the Enquirer and Examiner inform us how Breckinridge stands on the questions propounded to Douglas at Norfolk?—Richmond Whig.

Keep it Before the People.
That John C. Breckinridge and John Bell were both members of Congress during the year 1854, when the Kansas-Nebraska Bill was discussed and passed, and the former was a member of the House and the latter a Senator. Breckinridge spoke on the 23d of March, and Mr. Bell spoke on the 25th of May of the same year. Here are specimens of the views taken by these gentlemen separately:

REPL. BRECKINRIDGE. If you do not pass this bill it is to stimulate the formation of a sectional party organization, and as I see it, the leaders of the Disunion party make the same protestation, but they all admit that while they are favorable to the Union, yet there is a "contingency" upon which they would dissolve. Now, I desire to know of Major Breckinridge whether the "contingency" stated by his electoral friends in Virginia in their inquiries to me, is the one upon which he would dissolve the Union. I have a right to an answer to that question.

Now, if Mr. Breckinridge is in favor of enforcing the law against Disunionists, Secessionists, Abolitionists, and all other classes of men, in the event that the election does not suit him, then I am with him, but I tell you that I am utterly opposed to union, or any fusion with any men or any party who will not enforce the laws, maintain the Constitution, and preserve the Union in all its "contingencies."

For the Commonwealth.
O. O. F.—Reception of the Grand Lodge of the United States in the City of Nashville.

The Grand Lodge of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows of the United States, which holds its sessions regularly at Baltimore, determined, by resolution, to hold its annual meeting for 1860 at Nashville. The last Legislature of Tennessee unanimously tendered to this body the use of the State Capitol, one of the most splendid and magnificent buildings in the country.

On the 17th inst., in accordance with previous arrangements, the following ceremonies were observed: A large procession was formed at Old Fellows Hall, the members of the Order and City Council of Nashville acting as an escort. After moving through the principal streets, accompanied by a splendid band of music, the procession was conducted to the Capitol where a large concourse of ladies and gentlemen had assembled to witness the reception. The Grand Marshal introduced E. D. Hancock, Esq., and his honor Mayor Hollingsworth, who delivered addresses of welcome to the Grand Lodge, tendering to its members the hospitalities of the citizens and kind assurances of the gratification they experienced at witnessing the presence of that body in their midst. These addresses were responded to on behalf of the Grand Lodge, in most graceful and eloquent style, by Edward H. Fitzhugh, Esq., the Grand President. An invitation was then extended to the honored guests, to visit the Hermitage and partake of a sumptuous repast on the grounds occupied by the immortal hero of New Orleans, which of course was unanimously accepted. The band performed several fine airs, after which the spectators withdrew and the Grand Lodge proceeded to the transaction of its regular business.

This is the first time in the history of the Order that its supreme legislative head has assembled south of the Ohio river. Being composed of delegates from every State and territory, as well as from Canada and other British provinces, our sister commonwealth of Tennessee is setting forth her wonted hospitality to the delight and pleasure of its recipients, who will depart from her borders with many pleasant recollections of their visit.

Kentucky is represented in the Grand Lodge by Dr. J. M. Mills, of Frankfort, Amos Shinkle, Esq., of Covington, and W. B. Mason, Esq., of Lancaster.

"The Cry is Still, They Come."—Declaring for Bell and Everett.

The Rome (Georgia) Courier, which has been hitherto a Democratic journal, announces that it will, during the present canvass, support the nominees of the Constitutional Union party.

The Hayneville (Ala.) Watchman, a Democratic journal, published in the rich and populous county of Lowndes, and heretofore supporting Breckinridge and Lane, has abandoned them to advocate the election of Bell and Everett.

The Southern Herald, published at Fulton, Mississippi, and hitherto neutral in politics, has announced that during the present canvass it will advocate the claims of Bell and Everett.

The Courier of the Teche, hitherto a neutral paper, published at St. Martinsville, parish of St. Martin, Louisiana, has placed the names of Bell and Everett at its mast head. It is printed both in French and English, and enters into the contest with spirit.

The Montgomery (Ala.) Post, heretofore a neutral paper, has declared for Bell and Everett.

The Daily News, of Jackson, (Miss.) has renounced its neutrality during the present canvass, and will support Bell and Everett. The Morehouse (Louisiana) Advocate, heretofore a Democratic journal, has announced that it will support the candidates of the Constitutional Union party.—Nat. Int.

WHY BRECKINRIDGE SHOULD DECLINE.—The Memphis Appeal gives many reasons why Breckinridge should decline, of which the following are good and sufficient:

He ought to decline because the first movement towards his nomination was made by an avowed disunionist. He ought to decline because he occupies the position of a disorganizer and disunionist. He ought to decline because he is considered by all unbiased minds as a mere tool in the hands of discomfited politicians, and a defeated Administration.

The following dispatch was sent by Gen. Lane to the Seceders and bolters at Charleston:

"GO OUT!"
The people of Oregon, in six weeks afterwards, sent the following dispatch through the ballot box:

"GO OUT!"
And so will the people of the South say at the ballot box on the 6th day of November.

The Moulton (Ala.) Democrat, a Democratic organ, speaking of a Bell and Everett meeting in that place, says:

Truth and justice require us to admit that Bell-Everett justice is advancing in this part of the country. It is now at fever heat, with a defiant and upward tendency. We make the admission reluctantly.

JOHN S. HARVIE, LEWIS E. HARVIE. Sept. 17, 1860—w&twtf.

Scrofula, or King's Evil, is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which this fluid becomes vitiated, weak, and poor. Being in the circulation, it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of God to the fathers upon their children.

Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or ulcerous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, eruptions or sores. This foul corruption, which renders the scrofulous, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently, vast numbers perish by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed, of all the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.

One quarter of all our people are scrofulous; their persons are invaded by this lurking infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must renovate the blood by an healthy food and exercise, invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can devise for this every where prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active remedies that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as Eruptions and SKIN DISEASES, ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, ROSE, OR ERYSIPELAS, PIMPLES, PUSTULES, BLOTCHES, BLAINS AND BOILS, TUMORS, TETTER AND SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, RINGWORM, ERYTHASMA, SPITTING OF BLOOD, AND ALL THE DISEASES OF THE BLOOD, AND, INDEED, ALL COMPLAINTS ARISING FROM VITIATED OR IMPURE BLOOD. The popular belief in "impurity of the blood" is founded in truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

AYER'S

Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,
FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIC,

are so composed that disease within the range of their action can rarely withstand or evade them. Their penetrating properties search, cleanse, and invigorate every portion of the human organism, correcting its diseased action, and restoring its healthy vitality. As a consequence of these properties, the invalid who is bowed down with pain or physical debility is astonished to find his health or energy restored by a remedy at once so simple and invigorating. Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also many formidable and dangerous diseases. The agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing certificates of their cures and directions for their use in the following complaints: Costiveness, Heartburn, Headache, Pain in disordered Stomach, Nausea, Indigestion, Pains in and Morbid Inaction of the Bowels, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, Jaundice, and other diseases of the liver, arising from a low state of the body or obstruction of its functions.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,
FOR THE RAPID CURE OF
Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.

So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. While many inferior remedies thrust upon the community have failed and been discarded, this has gained friends by every day's use, and the confidence in the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.

The Shoe Pinches Terribly.—Trick No. 1,000 Exposed.

The recent elections in some of the southern States are conclusive of the effect the disunion charge against the party which was founded by Yancey and is now led by Breckinridge and Lane. Kentucky believed that it was a disunion party, and in August last repudiated it by 23,000 majority. Something must be done, say the Yanceytes—unless the tide is turned, they will all go down. The waves of popular indignation will sweep over their heads and bury them forever. The cry of "stop thief" is raised; all at once the Yancey organ and speakers make the charge of disunion against Bell and Douglas, and their supporters. The central organ of the 22d inst. comes out with a leader seven columns in length, with the following sensation heading:

"The Plot to Dissolve the Union.—Further Particulars.—Douglas and Bell Implicated."

"The whole county will laugh at this effort, and will see at once the object of this country cry of disunion. How does the Yeoman prove the charge of disunion against Bell and his party? It quotes from the speeches of John Bell in 1850 and 1853, which we have already shown do not contain one sentiment of disunion. We have already shown that John Bell, in 1850, said that the dissolution of the Union would be "the direst calamity" which can befall the country. We have already shown that he said the greatest common interest was the safety and preservation of the Union." We have already shown that on the 18th March, 1853, he declared in the Senate that "LET POWER GO INTO WHATEVER HANDS IT MAY, LET US SAVE THE UNION!" We have already shown that even as far back as 1832 he was foremost in making "a plea for the Union."

In what other way does the Yeoman attempt to sustain the charge? By quotations from the speeches and letters of A. Burwell, of Mississippi; A. Boteler, of Virginia, the Philadelphia Journal, H. W. Hilliard, of Alabama, Jere. Clemens, of Tennessee, and B. H. Hill, of Georgia. What these men are reported to have said constitutes the whole proof. Now let us examine the charges as to Mr. Burwell. Here is the entire statement of the Yeoman:

A. BURWELL, OF MISSISSIPPI.

A prominent supporter of Mr. Bell, has, under date of August 10th, 1860, addressed a letter to ex-Gov. Foote, which we find published in the New York Herald, preceded by a most complimentary notice and indorsement by Mr. Foote. In this letter, Mr. Burwell, says, in the event that Mr. Lincoln is elected:

"I know no men in the South who will, in such an event, take up and bear the standard of the Union, nor do I believe that any such exist."

We are curious to know whether the Yeoman saw the entire letter of Mr. Burwell before it published the above in regard to him. Fortunately we have the entire letter. It was a letter addressed to the people of the North, to show them that the election of Lincoln would result in unpleasant effects upon the southern portion of the Union. He even goes so far as to express an opinion that the triumph of Lincoln would precipitate the cotton States into a revolution. But on examination of the letter of Mr. Burwell shows that when he said that in the event of Lincoln's election he knew no man in the South who will "take up and bear the standard of the Union," he meant to say, and did say, that no man would bear the standard of the Union party, since the triumph of northern sectionalism would eventually sectionalize the South and destroy the existence in the South, of an Union party. Here is the connection in which the extract quoted by the Yeoman occurs:

"It is unreasonable to expect Union loving, conservative men of the South to throw themselves into the breach; to head a forlorn hope, with the imminent prospect of certain destruction in more senses than one, as their only incentive to such a sacrifice. Is it fair, manly, and patriotic to put them in such a position, when there is no apparent necessity for so doing, and no great interests of the North can suffer by pursuing a different course? The difficulties and embarrassment of the Union party in the South have been of no ordinary character. Let no man who is ambitious of personal or political distinction, at least so far as it is dependent on Southern votes, attach himself to that party, when it shall be stunted and overwhelmed by the shouts of victory, uttered by the adherents of those whom the majority of Southern people regard as deadly and implacable enemies to them and their institutions. I know no men who will, in such an event, take up and bear the standard of the Union, nor do I believe that any such exist."

Did any one ever see a stronger instance in which the tearing of a single sentence from its immediate context conveys a meaning totally different from that which the writer intended? The evident intention of the Yeoman was to convey the impression that Mr. Burwell considered the election of Lincoln a sufficient cause for every southern man to abandon the Union of these States. Such is not the fact; and our readers will learn with surprise that in the very letter from which the Yeoman made the above extract Mr. Burwell distinctly says: "I do not believe myself that the election of Republicans, under the forms of the Constitution and in pursuance of law, is just and good cause for any such action as I apprehend on the part of the Southern States." Why was this part of Mr. Burwell's letter suppressed? We could give still further proofs of Mr. Burwell's opposition to disunion. In a very recent letter to the St. Louis Union Guard he says:

"The party for the Union is just beginning to work here, and hope to give a good account of themselves in November. The Disunionists are losing strength every day. They are beginning to get ashamed of their avowed trade, and are becoming UNION SHRIEKERS."

Will the Yeoman try it once more?

We will, in our next issue, follow up this subject, so that the Yanceytes will have not even the smallest loophole out of which to escape. Their cry of "stop thief" shall not avail. Let our speakers be on their guard against single sentences extracted from the letters of public men.

A Correction.—The Marshall Family.

In our issue of the 19th inst., some comments were made upon the speech made by Hon. Humphrey Marshall in this city on the 17th inst., in behalf of Breckinridge and Lane. In the same connection reference was also made to the general political course of that distinguished gentleman. But there are portions of the article alluded to which might be construed into an attack upon the integrity of the entire Marshall family. We desire now to disclaim any such intention. The sole object of the writer was to criticize the political course of some one or two of the most noted of that distinguished and talented family. The public will understand to whom allusion was made. There are many members of that family for whom the proprietors of this paper have always entertained the kindest feelings as well as the highest respect. We certainly did not mean to disparage the standing, influence, or integrity, personal or political, of such men as the venerable ex-Chief Justice THOMAS A. MARSHALL, of Louisville; MARTIN P. MARSHALL and CHARLES A. MARSHALL, of Mason county; WM. C. MARSHALL, of Brecken county; Hon. A. K. MARSHALL, and others of that connection scattered throughout the whole of the State, all of whom occupy a deservedly high position in the esteem of the people of Kentucky. Aside from the fact that most of them concur with us in regard to the politics of the day, our kind feelings for them would, alone, restrain us from casting any reflections upon the family to which they belong. This much is due to the relations which the proprietors of this paper have always sustained to many members of that family. It is especially due to a former editor of this paper, for whom they have always cherished the kindest feelings, and who is very closely related to the family in question.

ASTONISHING DEVELOPMENT.—The Breckinridge Central Organ in Private Correspondence with Wm. L. Yancey, the Aaron Burr of the Present Day.

The Yeoman of the 20th inst., contains the following:

"Hon. Wm. L. Yancey.—We learn from a private note received from this gentleman on yesterday that he started for a canvassing tour in the Northern States on the 15th, and was to have spoken at Knoxville, Tenn., on the 18th inst. He states that Breckinridge and Lane will carry Alabama and Georgia by large majorities."

Now is not this rich! The Breckinridge elector in this district, Col. Johnson, said here that Yancey was a rash, imprudent man, for whom Breckinridge was not responsible. Wm. L. Yancey is a traitor to the Union and Constitution, and deserves the death of a traitor. He is struggling to elect Abraham Lincoln President, and is going North to effect that end. He is aiming to "precipitate the Cotton States into a revolution," and yet the central organ of the Kentucky Breckinridge Democracy, while professing devotion to the Union in "private" correspondence with him. What ought to be the fate of a party which countenances such a traitor as Wm. L. Yancey? Will the editor of the Yeoman please inform the public whether the Breckinridge State Central Committee has not been endeavoring to get Wm. L. Yancey to come to Kentucky to address the people for Breckinridge? The people have the right to an answer to that question. Speak out and let the people know the extent of the plot to dissolve the Union.

LITTLE THINGS.—Springs are little things, but they are the sources of large streams; a helm is a little thing, but mark how evenly it governs the course of the largest ship that floats the waters; pegs and nails are little things, but they hold together the large parts of the largest buildings; that memento is a little thing, and costs but little of the world's wealth, and yet it expresses the universe, for it is a thought of love, clothed in a form of beauty. An angry word, a jealous thought—a frown—all these are little things, but powerful for evil; whilst a smile, a gentle look, a kind word, "fitly spoken," has induced thousands, and will induce thousands more, to go buy their Hats, Caps, Boots, Shoes, Books and Stationery of Keenon & Crutcher, Main street, Frankfort, Ky.

Keenon is becoming amiable.

PREMIUMS TO KENTUCKIANS.—The following premiums were awarded to Kentuckians at the National Fair at Cincinnati on Wednesday:

Native Cotswold Bucks.
Best two year old and over, A. C. Shropshire, Harrison county, Ky., 1st premium.....$30
Best under one year old, A. C. Shropshire, Kentucky, 1st premium.....$10

Native Cotswold Ewes.
Second best under one year old, A. C. Shropshire, Harrison county, Ky.,.....$15
Best lot ewe lambs, A. C. Shropshire, Kentucky, 1st premium.....$20
A lot of Southdown ewes, by R. A. Alexander, recommended a premium of.....$

The Fair closed yesterday. The main attractions were the contest between the trotting stallions and the trial of superiority between Cincinnati and Philadelphia steam engines.

KEENE & Co.—In today's paper will be found the advertisement of this well established and popular firm. We don't intend to puff this house, but will merely remark that the "goods" are worthy of the proprietors, and all who know the proprietors need no other recommendation.

Honor to the Patriot!

HON. JOHN J. CRITTENDEN.

We observe from our Nashville exchanges that the Union men of Tennessee intend to give our distinguished fellow-citizen a magnificent reception upon his arrival in Nashville to-day. A large meeting has been held in Nashville, and a numerous committee, with a chief marshal, have been appointed to superintend the reception, which is to be followed by a Grand Banquet Meeting on the 25th, at Watkins' Park, where the assembled thousands will be addressed by Senator Crittenden and others. The Committee of Arrangements, on their programme, say: The citizens of Kentucky, the "home of CRITTENDEN are cordially invited to come." We see it also stated that Mr. Crittenden will address an immense mass meeting at Knoxville, Tenn., on the 27th inst.

Persons afflicted with the Fever and Ague should not spare either time, trouble or expense, to procure DR. HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED BITTERS, whose beneficial effects upon the system has been clearly proved to those who have been stricken down in a short space of time by this dreadful curse, whose cheeks are wan and meagre, and whose nights are sleepless and restless, and whose eyes are dim and sunken, with death staring them in the face, this compound must prove a blessing, snatching them, as it were, from the mouth of the grave. None can know its true value until they have tested it. When all others have failed, these Bitters have restored the sufferers to pristine health. Their popularity in all the Western and Southern parts should introduce them to all families.

Sold by druggists and dealers generally everywhere. See advertisement in another column.

TAXES—TAXES—TAXES.—The individual who walks around with a book or so under his arm, wears a white hat, with a black band, a green coat, (made out of a billiard cloth), a check vest, and a pair of gray pants, informs us that his tax receipts are all made out, and that he is ready to sign the same after a few necessary formalities are done gone through with.

A kick to a blind horse is as good as a wink.

Let the Rices, Elliots, Burks, Cecils, Dishmans, and other gallant mountain chiefs, too numerous to mention in a paragraph, get down to their work. We are betting on you!—Yeoman.

Two of those fellows can get down. We are afraid to particularize, on account of John Elliott, one of those "mountain chiefs." He is chief, chiefest, chiefest, and would "stain the ground with the blood" of any sheep who jumps over the fence and calls him a disunion party.

We invite the attention of our readers to the advertisement in relation to spurious American Watches. The American Watch Company, at Waltham, Mass., have won a high reputation for the excellent quality of their work. Buyers who want a good Watch, should see that they are not imposed upon by counterfeits.

Religious Notice.

Dr. WINTHROP H. HOPSON, of Lexington, Ky., will preach in the Christian Church this (Monday) evening, at 7 o'clock, and at the same hour every evening during the week. The public are respectfully invited to attend.

Immense Union Gathering.

The Union men of Mercer and Anderson had a rousing Mass Meeting at Salvisa on Wednesday last. The crowd present is estimated at 3000. The speakers were Hon. J. B. Thompson, W. H. Wadsworth and John M. Harlan.

There is something the matter on the mail route from this point to Oddville, Harrison county, Ky. The Democrat can't get there for some cause. There is foul play somewhere. The paper is regularly mailed from this office.—Low Democrat.

Well, that is curious. Perhaps if there was a Post office at that place it would be easier to get a paper to go there.

VOTE ON THE RIVER.—A vote was taken on board the steamer Moses McLellan on Wednesday with the following result: Bell 68, Lincoln 37, Douglas 32, Breckinridge 11—scattering 11.—Low Journal.

Breckinridge and Scattering had better have a joint electoral ticket.

We acknowledge the receipt of a jug of the finest old Bourbon whisky, from our friend John Rupe of the Capital Hotel bar. The whisky was made of corn and the jug was made of—a peach stone-ah.

BRECKINRIDGE AND LINCOLN.—We invite the attention of the reader to a short article which we publish from the New York Express. It shows the object which the Secession party has in view, in New York and other free States.

A pet lap-dog having bitten a piece out of a man's leg, the heartless mistress exclaimed: "Poor Ponto! I hope it won't make him sick!"

MORE OLD LINE DEMOCRATS GOING OVER TO BELL AND EVERETT.—The Macon, Ga., Daily Citizen, an excellent Bell and Everett paper, publishes a list of seventeen Democrats of that city who have recently declared for the Constitutional Union candidates.

MARRIED.

On the 18th, in New Liberty, Owen co., Ky., by the Rev. J. F. Cook, Mr. EDWARD G. RICO, late of Yreka, Cal., to Miss ANNETTE TODD, eldest daughter of Howard Todd, Esq.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Caution.—Spurious American Watches.

We are credibly informed that some of the Jewellers of Louisville and other places are selling counterfeit and imitation American Watches, for the genuine article, manufactured at Waltham, Mass., and particularly a foreign imitation of our watch, named P. S. Bartley, which is represented to be manufactured in Hartford, Conn. It may be of service to the public to be informed that there is no manufactory of watches in that place. The genuine article of one grade of our watches is named P. S. BARTLEY, WALTHAM, MASS., and all our watches of every grade are marked "Waltham, Mass."

It is hardly necessary to state that such watches are like ours in form only, and are made upon the same old system that has already flooded the country with watches that are not only vexatious and a constant source of expense, but really useless to the owners, and when bought for genuine are calculated to injure the high reputation which our watches have attained. We therefore caution the public against buying our watches from any person who cannot furnish a certificate of genuineness for every watch offered for sale, bearing the number of the watch and the signature of the Treasurer of the Company, R. E. Robbins. We also beg to inform those who deal in the spurious article, that legal proceedings will be instituted against them, upon any well authenticated instance of their selling a counterfeit or colorable imitation of any of our products.

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

The proprietors and manufacturers of HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS can appeal with perfect confidence to physicians and citizens generally of the United States, because the article has attained a reputation heretofore unknown. A few facts upon this point will speak more powerfully than volumes of mere assertion or blazoning puffery. The consumption of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters for the last year amounted to over a half million bottles, and from its manifest steady increase in times past, it is evident that during the coming year the consumption will reach nearly one million bottles. This immense amount could never have been sold but for the rare medicinal properties contained in the preparation, and the sanction of the most prominent physicians in those portions of the country where the article is best known, who not only recommend the Bitters to their patients, but are ready at all times to give testimonials to its efficacy in all cases of stomachic derangements and the diseases resulting therefrom.

This is not a temporary popularity, obtained by extraordinary efforts in the way of tempting the qualities of the Bitters, but a solid estimation of an invaluable medicine, which is destined to be as enduring as time itself. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters have proved a Godsend to regions where fever and ague and various other bilious complaints have counted their victims by hundreds. To be able to state confidently that the Bitters are a certain cure for the Dyspepsia and like diseases, is to the proprietors a source of untold pleasure. It removes all morbid matter from the stomach, purifies the blood, and imparts renewed vitality to the nervous system, giving it that tone and energy indispensable for the restoration of health. It operates upon the stomach, liver, and other digestive organs, mildly but powerfully, and soon restores them to a condition essential to the healthy discharge of the functions of nature.

Elderly persons may use the Bitters daily as per directions on the bottle, and they will find in it a stimulant peculiarly adapted to comfort declining years, as it is pleasant to the palate, invigorating to the bowels, excellent as a tonic, and rejuvenating generally. We have the evidence of thousands of aged men and women who have experienced the benefit of using its preparation while suffering from stomachic derangements and general debility; acting under the advice of physicians, they have abandoned all deleterious drugs and fairly tested the merits of this article. A few words to the gentler sex. There are certain periods when their curative are so harassing that many of them sink under the trial. The relation of mother and child is so absorbingly tender, that the mother, especially if she be young, is apt to forget her own health in her extreme anxiety for her infant. Should the period of maternity arrive during the summer season, the wear of body and mind is generally aggravated. Here, then, is a necessity for a stimulant to recuperate the energies of the system, and enable the mother to bear up under her exhausting trials and responsibilities. Nursing mothers generally prefer the Bitters to all other invigorators that receive the endorsement of physicians, because it is agreeable to the taste as well as certain to give a permanent increase of bodily strength.

All those persons, to whom we have particularly referred above, to wit: sufferers from fever and ague, caused by malaria, diarrhoea, dysentery, indigestion, loss of appetite, and all diseases or derangements of the stomach, superannuated invalids, persons of sedentary occupation, and nursing mothers, will consult their own physical welfare by giving to Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters a trial. CAUTION.—We caution the public against using any of the many imitations or counterfeits, but ask for Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters, and see that each bottle has the words "Dr. J. C. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters" blown on the side of the bottle, and stamped on the metallic cap covering the cork, and observe that our autograph signature is on the label. Prepared and sold by HOSTETTER & CO., 211 N. 3rd St., Philadelphia, Pa., and sold by all druggists, grocers, and dealers generally throughout the United States, South America, and Germany. For sale by all D. druggists in FRANKFORT, December 9, 1899-Jy.

THE KENTUCKY FARMER.

ONLY ONE DOLLAR PER ANNUM.

NOW IS THE TIME TO SUBSCRIBE!

THE Second Volume of the "Kentucky Farmer" closed the month of June, and the third Volume commenced in July last. We promised two years ago to try and give to the Agriculturalists and Stock Raisers of Kentucky a paper worthy of their patronage. We put the question now to every one of its patrons. Have we redeemed that pledge? Have we given you an equivalent for THE DOLLAR, which was paid for the KENTUCKY FARMER? If so, let every one of our present subscribers renew their own subscriptions, and send us one or more additional names for the THIRD VOLUME. The receipts for the First Volume have paid the expenses of its publication. We promise our patrons that we would publish ONE VOLUME whether we obtained a sufficient amount to pay its expenses or not. We redeemed that pledge. The subscription list increased for the Second Volume, but is nothing like so large as it should be. Shall we have the kind and continued support of its present patrons, together with their aid in extending its circulation? If so, we promise to do everything in our power to make the paper worthy of a Kentucky public. The "Kentucky Farmer" will still be published monthly, in its present form of sixteen large quarto pages, for ONE DOLLAR per annum, payable invariably in advance. As the small amount charged for the paper will not justify the trouble and expense of collecting subscriptions, no paper will be forwarded unless paid for in advance. Subscriptions can be forwarded to us by mail at our risk. Letters addressed to us need not be registered. Address

THE VESPER GAS, OR AIR LIGHT.

The "cheapest, most brilliant, and most convenient Artificial Light in the World!"

THE Vesper Gas Light has won for itself a reputation for elegance, economy, safety, and simplicity far beyond any other artificial light.

The light and the fixtures practically resemble in form those of coal gas; but in brilliancy and purity of light it possesses a decided advantage over even Louisville coal gas. It requires no chimney; there is no need of daily trimming of wicks, and the construction of the fixture is simple in that it is not liable to get out of order, and a child can manage it readily.

The gas burned in the Vesper fixtures is generated from pure coal oil, without any admixture of alcohol or other explosive ingredient. It is entirely free from odor, and burning, as by a simple contrivance, the odor of the oil is mixed with the atmosphere, producing perfect combustion and a most intense light.

The light has been pronounced, by those who have used it in constant use for months, as most pleasant to the eye while reading or sewing, there being no flicker or unsteadiness in the flame. The Vesper Gas Light is portable, and can be used in town or country—in fact, wherever artificial light is required. The fixtures themselves are adapted in style to suit all tastes, from the plain single-light burner to the most costly chandelier. Each chandelier is perfect in itself; there is no outlet to be made for service pipes. The gas is generated in the burner, and all fixtures, from the cheap single-light burner to the expensive chandelier, are miniature gas-works in themselves. They are sold at prices which do not exceed the cost of ordinary gas fixtures of similar style and ornamentation. A price list will be sent to any address on application.

MERCHANTS

Visiting Louisville should not fail to procure the Vesper Gas Light for their stores.

Churches, Hotels, Public Halls, and Private Residences.

Throughout the State can now be fitted up with these elegant and convenient chandeliers, and other beautiful gas fixtures, which add so much to the appearance of such places, and to the comfort of the home circle, and which heretofore could be used only in those favored districts embraced within the coal-gas limits of large cities.

The limited space of an advertisement precludes the insertion here of the numerous testimonials of approval we have received from all quarters. Suffice it to say, scientific men and others who have examined and thoroughly tested the merits of the Vesper Gas Light, pronounce it the best and cheapest artificial light now known.

The proprietor respectfully requests responsible merchants in every town and country in the State to correspond with him, believing they will find it to their interest to aid him in introducing his unequalled light to their customers.

Vesper Fixtures and Coal Oil prepared expressly for this burner kept constantly on hand, and for sale wholesale and retail.
